

REBELS TO MARCH ON CAPITAL

March 8 is Date Set for the Attack by Revolutionists

CONDITION IS SERIOUS

Secretary of Madero Denies That He Intimated Americans Would be Massacred.

Mexico City, Feb. 29.—March 8 is the date set by the Vasquista agitators for a general attack on Mexico City. They are not taken seriously. In line with assertions by Vasquista propagandists in the capital that the end of the month would see various uprisings in this vicinity, the jefe politico of Zumpango, 25 miles north of here, took to the hills today with a handful of followers and what arms the band could seize. One hundred federals were sent to garrison the town and a squad of cavalry went in pursuit of the rebels. Consular reports from Durango indicate that a serious condition still exists throughout that state. The country is overrun with robbing bands and the city is still cut off from rail communication and is full of refugees. The town of Badiraguato in Sinaloa is reported to be in the possession of 1500 rebels. Nieves in Zacatecas, was raided twice within the last 24 hours. A quantity of arms which had just arrived from the capital of the state for local defense fell into the hands of the rebels. A party of 3000 men was made upon the citizens, who contributed to prevent the town being ransacked. Twenty-four recruits joined the robbers who left for Sombrerete, an important mining town near the Durango line. The band disclaimed allegiance to Vasquez Gomez. No immediate steps will be taken to dislodge the rebels from Juarez either by force or battle. Instead the government will devote its energies to cleaning up the district about Torreon and Chihuahua. This, according to the best information obtainable, was the conclusion reached at the meeting of President Madero's cabinet after the difficulties of starving out the Juarez insurrectionists had been thoroughly canvassed. A government official who was present at the taking of the border city by Madero last May, pointed out that it would require a large number of troops and a close investment to prevent the rebels securing cattle and provisions from the surrounding country with which to maintain themselves. The troops could not be spared nor could they be placed about the city without great difficulty, he said. On the other hand the government has decided that military operations are to be pushed vigorously in the La Guna district. Troops are being sent into that territory from Saltillo and Monterey, and results are expected within a few days. In the opinion of government officials railroad traffic will be re-established shortly on the lines connecting the latter cities with Torreon. In response to representations made by United States Ambassador Wilson, a body of troops is proceeding to the relief of 53 Americans who are bottled up at Velardena. A report was circulated here today that 3000 Americans had been killed by the rebels. Careful inquiry failed to show any foundation for the rumors. What stand General Orozco will take after the termination of the period of service covered in his promise to Madero several weeks ago, when he expressed a desire to return, appears to be giving concern. Government officials would not venture an opinion, but there was evident a lack of confidence in his loyalty. From other sources usually well informed it was learned that there was lack of accord between him and the administration.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Juan Sanchez Azcona, private secretary to President Madero, of Mexico, in a telegram received here last night, repudiates the statement printed in an "authorized interview" that he predicted a massacre of Americans in Mexico if the United States troops crossed the line. Azcona's message was sent to Colonel Thomas S. Hopkins, who was his counsel when the Diaz regime during the Madero revolution, attempted to extradite Azcona from Washington on technical charges of political acts. Colonel Hopkins early in the day telegraphed the printed statement which has caused deep concern among government officials here. "I beg you to deny that I have

LIQUOR LICENSE PROPOSAL

Has Been Occupying Attention of Delegates for Several Days

AMENDMENTS DEFEATED

And Con. Con. is in Same Position It Was in Before Debates Began.

Columbus, Feb. 29.—The constitutional convention tabled all the amendments covering the liquor license proposal here today and returned to practically the same position it was in when it began the debates on the King proposal. The Anderson proposal was the main proposal pending in engrossment and simply permitted the legislature to regulate the evils arising out of the sale of liquor. The King proposal presented an amendment to the Anderson proposal, provided for unrestricted license, and was defeated by a vote of 67 to 50. The Winn amendment provided for a restricted license and was defeated by a vote of 61 to 55. The Anderson proposal for a license with stringent restrictions was tied by a vote of 58 to 58, but a second vote defeated it 58 to 59. Robert Crosser of Cuyahoga county cast the decisive vote.

OHIO BILL OF RIGHTS

A step to modify the bill of rights in accordance with suggestions to make easier the election of judges was taken last night when the judiciary committee of the constitutional convention, adopted, without a dissenting vote, Delegate Bowdler's proposal. It provides the prosecutor may comment on the failure of an indicted person to take the witness stand. This reform has been demanded by those who wish to see administration of justice improved. Although all committee members said they were for it, the committee laid over for further study the Riley proposal for allowing the state as well as the defense, to take depositions in a criminal case. This second reform abrogates the "face to face" proposition in the present bill of rights, which compels the state to bring all witnesses into court except Columbus and Cleveland advocates of general civil service appeared before the committee on miscellaneous subjects to urge the adoption of the merit system.

EIGHT MEMBERS OF CREW DROWN

New Orleans, Feb. 29.—The largest river packet on the Mississippi river, the steamer J. E. Troudeau, burned to the water's edge and sank at 2 o'clock this morning at St. Gabriel, 100 miles above New Orleans. Eight negroes, members of the crew, were drowned. Plans were drawn a year ago or more for six additional caissons in order to obtain a more adequate supply of filtered water. It was planned to build these of concrete, but the department, in investigating the experience of similar caissons at Ironclad, found that they were impractical. The heavy concrete basins settled in the sand, the iron pipe connections were broken and the total amount invested was lost. The concrete basins were decided upon because the department thought they could be cleaned from time to time and thus restore their efficiency. It is the experience of every infiltration system in use that the sand covered caissons lose their efficiency after a time and if no way is provided to flush the basins and restore them to their former point of efficiency, they are next to being useless. At the Newark city plant it is necessary to imbed the iron caissons some two or three feet below the bottom level of the stream, and this makes it impractical to clean the caissons by flushing. Newark's experience with this system of infiltration has been that it is inefficient as it stands at present. When the pumps use more water than the natural seepage through the sand supplies in the caissons, there is a very strong suction from the pumps which draws the water with considerable force through the sand. ## SNEAD JURY DISCHARGED

Ft. Worth, Tex., Feb. 29.—A jury standing seven for acquittal and five for the conviction of John Snead, held for the murder of A. G. Boyce, Panhandle cattle king, was discharged today. Snead, a wealthy banker, believed Captain Boyce had tried to assist his son, Albert Boyce, in kidnapping his wife. Snead shot Boyce in a Ft. Worth hotel. The jury was out 112 hours.

WOMEN WERE RESCUED FROM CHICAGO FIRE

Chicago, Feb. 29.—Eight women were carried down ladders by firemen from the fourth-story windows and a score of lives were imperiled in a fire in the fashionable Ward apartment building early today. Eight families occupied the building and were trapped by the flames. A number of women on the upper floors became dazed by smoke and the cries of the crowds that gathered, and would have perished if firemen had not discovered them. The eight women were handed down the ladder, one at a time.

INFILTRATION SYSTEM OF CITY WATERWORKS MUST BE ENLARGED

Quantity of Filtered Water is Inadequate and Additional Iron Caissons for Increased Infiltration Must be Imbedded--But as Such Work Cannot be Done in the Winter Season it Must be Postponed Till Spring Weather Permits

The typhoid fever epidemic and its relation to the water supply has been the subject of much comment and gossip throughout the city for several weeks. It has been also discussed in the newspapers of neighboring cities to some extent, none of which reflects credit on our city. A reasonable doubt exists whether the epidemic can be traced to the city water. This fact has been stated in the Advocate a number of times. The warning of the health officer to boil the drinking water not only referred to the city water but also water secured from wells.

With the approach of spring and its accompanying thaws, there will be no diminution of danger of infection from the drinking water. On the other hand the danger will increase until the spring rains and thaws have cleaned the earth from the accumulation of dirt and filth during an unusually severe winter. The question naturally arises as to what the condition of the filtration plant at the city water works station is at this time.

During the summer of 1909 the service department installed six metal caissons in the gravel bed of the North Fork to furnish sand filtered water to be pumped into the mains and reservoir.

This system of infiltration was in the nature of an experiment. It was installed with the approval or suggestion of the state board of health and it was understood at the time that if the caissons worked satisfactorily more would be installed. The engineer from the state board of health made a personal visit to Newark and after going over the situation formulated the plans and specifications used by the service department in installing the system.

In spite of the fact that the sand filterers supplied but two thirds the total amount of water consumed by the city, no other caissons were installed. As a result there has been a vast quantity of raw creek water pumped into the mains for over a year.

Plans were drawn a year ago or more for six additional caissons in order to obtain a more adequate supply of filtered water. It was planned to build these of concrete, but the department, in investigating the experience of similar caissons at Ironclad, found that they were impractical. The heavy concrete basins settled in the sand, the iron pipe connections were broken and the total amount invested was lost.

The concrete basins were decided upon because the department thought they could be cleaned from time to time and thus restore their efficiency. It is the experience of every infiltration system in use that the sand covered caissons lose their efficiency after a time and if no way is provided to flush the basins and restore them to their former point of efficiency, they are next to being useless.

At the Newark city plant it is necessary to imbed the iron caissons some two or three feet below the bottom level of the stream, and this makes it impractical to clean the caissons by flushing. Newark's experience with this system of infiltration has been that it is inefficient as it stands at present. When the pumps use more water than the natural seepage through the sand supplies in the caissons, there is a very strong suction from the pumps which draws the water with considerable force through the sand. ## POLICE CAPTURE ALLEGED JEWELRY ROBBER, RECOVERING PART OF THE STOLEN PLUNDER

Following a tip uncovered by Patrolman James Donley regarding the burglary of the Buxton jewelry store at Granville Tuesday night, Chief of Police Blizard and Captain Swank conducted an investigation which unearthed a quantity of jewelry, all of which has been identified as that stolen from the window of the Buxton store. Officer Swinehart picked up Otis Smith early Wednesday evening and lodged him in the city prison, where he will be charged with burglary and larceny in connection with the robbery. Last night while making his rounds, Patrolman Donley received some information to the effect that Otis Smith had "peddled" a ring under suspicious circumstances. He reported the matter to headquarters, together with information that more of the stuff had been concealed in Smith's room. Chief of Police Blizard and Capt. Swank ordered Smith's arrest and then started out on a search for the unsold jewelry. From Smith's room the officers secured two fine secret society emblems, a chain and a scarfpin set with a large amethyst in a velvet case containing the name of the jeweler.

At the pawnshops the officers recovered a gold signet ring, three secret emblem charms and a tie clasp. All of this was identified by Mr. Buxton as being his property and stolen from his window the night of the burglary. While this investigation was being conducted, Patrolman Swinehart located Smith at the saloon of Joe Fritz at Fourth and West Main streets and placed him under arrest. Smith was a former resident of Granville, but has been living in Newark for several years. He is a laborer, but has been out of work for some time. The police withheld the name of the home where Smith was staying and where a quantity of the stolen articles was found, it being alleged that Smith's host was innocent of any wrong-doing. The marshal, A. T. Sayers and Fred Burton came to Newark Thursday morning and identified the articles held by the police. This jewelry will be held for use as evidence against Smith when his case comes up for trial.

RUGGLES FINED IN BRIBERY CASE

Columbus, Feb. 29.—George Ruggles, formerly president of the Ruggles-Gale Company, stationers, today entered a plea of guilty to bribery, and was fined $500 and costs by Judge E. B. Dilloun. The sentence also carries with it the exclusion from all public offices of trust. Ruggles was indicted with other members of the firm and two employees of the state fire marshal's office. It was charged that Ruggles loaned William Ball, an employee of the office, $100. Several other indictments against Ruggles were quashed.

MOST GIGANTIC COAL STRIKE IN HISTORY TO BEGIN AT MIDNIGHT

London, Feb. 29.—Upwards of three quarters of a million miners will lay down their tools on account of the strike by 2 o'clock this afternoon when the day shift ends its work. The strikers' column swells hourly as no settlement is reached. A meeting was held by the Colliery federations of workers and the coal owners association until late in the morning, but both parties reiterated the refusal of the parties to budge from their respective posts. Further meetings will be held this afternoon but little is expected from them. The cabinet has made arrangements to hurry up the legislation which may prove necessary in order to compel a resumption of work. A large number of railroad employees passed resolutions refusing to carry trains handling troops or carrying coal mined by non-union miners.

WAGE AGREEMENT EXPIRES APRIL 1

Columbus, Feb. 29.—Announcement of the gigantic coal strike in England drew the attention of the coal operators of the bituminous field here to the fact that the wage scale agreement expires April 1. Operators are looking for a suspension of work until the matter is settled. The miners want a ten per cent increase in wages while the employers desire a reduction of 10 per cent. The operators of West Virginia are preparing to make large shipments to England.

DASHED TO DEATH IN FALL FROM ROOF OF HUDSON AVENUE HOME

Shocking Accident Occurred Early This Morning When Tinner Richard Winchell and A. P. Richardson Fell Distance of 35 Feet

ONE KILLED AND OTHER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Men Were Employes of Weakley Roofing and Tin Shop and Were Repairing Gutter of Roof on Ed. Doe Residence---Accident Witnessed by Several People---Injured Man Taken to City Hospital ---Has Chance of Recovery

Shortly after 8 o'clock Thursday morning, Richard Winchell and A. P. Richardson, employed by J. W. Weakley, roofer and repairer, 141 Indiana St., fell from the roof of the residence of Ed. Doe, 121 Hudson avenue. Mr. Winchell was instantly killed, while Mr. Richardson sustained injuries of a very serious nature. Both are married and have families.

One of the most shocking accidents that has happened in Newark for a long time was that which occurred at an early hour Thursday morning, when one man was instantly killed and another sustained injuries of such a nature that death may result. Some days ago Ed. Doe contracted with J. W. Weakley, tinner and roofer, of 141 Indiana street, to repair the gutters on the roof of his residence, 121 Hudson avenue, and Richard Winchell and A. P. Richardson, expert workmen, were detailed to do the work. The men had commenced the work, but were hindered by the extreme cold weather, and the work was postponed until it became milder.

Thursday morning Mr. Weakley, desirous of taking advantage of the fine weather, instructed the men to finish the work and they repaired to the Doe residence about 8 o'clock. Before leaving the shop Mr. Weakley cautioned them to be very careful in climbing over the roof, as the work they were detailed to do was of a very dangerous nature. Upon arriving at the residence the men mounted to the roof, which is some 30 or 35 feet from the ground, carrying their tools with them. After distributing their tools along the gutters, they had worked but a short time when Winchell slipped and was in the act of falling from the roof when Richardson grabbed him and attempted to pull him back. The strain, however, was too great and both slipped from the roof and fell to the ground. Winchell, who fell first, struck the ground on his head and face, the entire left side of his head being crushed in like an eggshell, while his body was also badly crushed. Death was instantaneous.

Richardson fell on his side and shoulder and sustained injuries of a very serious nature. It was reported that one of his arms was broken in two places. He also sustained a severe cut and bruises about the head and face.

Parties who witnessed the accident hurried to the nearest telephone and calling up the patrol station, requested that an ambulance be rushed to the scene as soon as possible. Officer Jay Sutton hurried across the street and notified Bowers & Balzer, the undertakers, who had their ambulance put and on the road to the scene in less than three minutes. In the meantime the patrol wagon was speeding toward the scene, and both arrived at the Doe residence about the same time. When they arrived they found a large crowd of people already assembling, the news of the accident having traveled life wildfire. The body of Winchell was placed in the patrol wagon and taken to the undertaking rooms of Bowers & Balzer, where it was prepared for interment.

Richardson, the injured man, was placed in the ambulance and rushed to the City Hospital, where his injuries were dressed and everything possible was done by the physician in attendance for his relief and comfort. It is reported that when he arrived at the hospital he was in a conscious condition and remained so during the time his injuries were being attended to. Richard Winchell, the dead man, is about 30 years old. He was married, living with his wife and four children at their home in First street. He was a very popular young man, was a member of Cedar Camp, Modern Woodmen of this city, and carried insurance in both the Woodmen and Metropolitan companies. Several persons witnessed the accident which resulted in the death of Winchell and the injuring of Richardson, among them being Miss Braunhold, sister of Mrs. Giles Smucker. To an Advocate reporter Miss Braunhold said: "I was standing on the porch watching the men when they began work, and at the time was thinking of the danger they were running while climbing over the roof. All at once, while I was watching them I saw one of the men fall and strike the ground, followed immediately by the other. One of the men struck the ground just north of the cement walk leading around the house, while the other

Saved Daughter's Life

This Father Refused to Let His Daughter Die.

Here is a story with a moral that many parents might take to heart: "My daughter was very pale, nervous, thin, and suffered with severe pain in her back, so that we took her out of school. Her flesh became blue and she could not retain her urine. I spent over $100 for medicine, but she grew worse. Finally I bought a bottle of Thompson's Barresma and she began to grow better right away. Five bottles of Thompson's Barresma made a complete cure, and today she is a perfectly healthy girl. Thompson's Barresma saved her life, for she was failing so fast that death was not far off."—Frank D. Meeder, Pleasantville, Pa.

If you are troubled with backache, sideache, weakness in the back, or any liver or kidney trouble, then it's time for Thompson's Barresma.

Barresma & Son sells Thompson's Barresma in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and he guarantees it to cure Bright's disease, high colored urine, bed-wetting, and all other kidney and liver diseases. It will make anyone vigorous in a few weeks, because it is a great tonic and maker of rich, red blood.

BEY HANNA SIGNED BY MANAGER GRIM; PITCHER WITH RECORD IS COMING

Following the State League meeting at Columbus Monday, Manager Grim returned to Indianapolis and continued his campaign for players for the Newark team. Word from him today is to the effect that three more players have been added to the Newark roster. Among them is Bey Hanna, with the 1910 Ohio State League team.

Catcher Madden of Pittsburg, who has been under the watchful eye of Barney Dreyfus of Pittsburg, has signed a Pittsburg contract, and it is the present plan to turn Madden over to the Newark club for further seasoning. He is highly recommended and it is believed that he will prove a valuable player.

Robert White of Letts, Ind., has sent in his signed contract. He is a pitcher with a record that makes him one of the most promising recruits on the list. He is 6 feet and 1 inch tall, weighs 175 pounds and is a right-hander. He is but 19 years old and this will be his first year in professional baseball.

Last season Wright won 18 out of 21 games and the season before he won 20 out of 23 games. "I count on this man making a great record this season," says Manager Grim.

The manager states that he will be in Newark for a few days in the early part of March, probably next week. He writes that he regretted to disappoint Newark people in not coming to the city after the Columbus meeting, but pressure of business demanded his presence in Indianapolis.

CONVENTION IS CALLED TO FIGHT WOMEN VOTING

Columbus, O., Feb. 20.—Setting forth the grave possibilities that the Ohio constitutional convention may submit a proposition permitting women to vote, the Ohio Association opposed to Woman's Suffrage has issued a call for a state convention of all women in its cause, to be held in Columbus, Wednesday, March 6. All organized bodies of women throughout the state are asked to send delegates.

The call is signed by Mrs. Herman Hubbard, president, and Mrs. T. Ewing Martin, secretary of the Columbus organization.

In making the call the local organization announces:

That the present movement for suffrage for women is backed by less than 10 per cent of the women of voting age in Ohio.

That a vast majority of women, particularly the wives and mothers, do not desire to vote.

That the injection of 1,200,000 votes into the next election would be fraught with gravest dangers to established institutions.

That the exercise of the franchise by women would militate against the moral, mental and physical well-being of the sex.

That the exercise of the franchise would vastly increase the number of divorce cases in this state.

That the exercise of the right to vote by women would tend to discourage matrimony.

That the exercise of the right to vote by women would strike a deadly blow at the home, which is the cornerstone of American life and the foundation of Christian government, and that a degree of social chaos unknown since the degenerate days of the Roman empire would follow the granting.

AWAY GOES CATARRH A FILTHY DISEASE

A Safe, Old Fashioned Remedy Quickly Relieves All Distressing Symptoms.

If you are subject to frequent colds, or if you have any of the distressing symptoms of catarrh, such as stuffed up feeling in the head, profuse discharge from the nose, sores in the nose, phlegm in the throat, causing nausea and spitting, dull pain in the head or ringing in the ears, or chest with a little Ely's Cream Balm and see how quickly you will get relief.

In a few minutes you will feel your head clearing, and after using the Balm for a day or so the nasty discharge will be checked, the pain, soreness and fever gone, and you will no longer be offensive to yourself and your friends by constantly hawking, spitting and blowing.

Shake off the grip of catarrh before it destroys your sense of taste, smell and hearing and pollutes the whole system. In a short time you can be completely cured of this distressing disease by using Ely's Cream Balm. This healing, antiseptic Balm does not fool you by short, deceptive relief, but completely overcomes the disease. It clears the nose, head and throat of all the rank pollution, soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, making you proof against colds and catarrh.

OFF FOR THEIR TRAINING CAMPS

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Members of the White Sox team not already at the training grounds at Waco, Texas, will leave here tonight. The only absentee will be Leo Tannehill, who a few days ago injured his ankle working in the gymnasium at Notre Dame university. He expects to be able to follow his team mates in a short time.

President Comiskey will accompany his athletes with several friends.

Cleveland, Feb. 20.—Members of the Cleveland team of the American league today bade farewell to snow and ice. They are destined for Mobile, where three weeks or so of training will be followed by some days at New Orleans and other points.

Besides the usual coterie of sporting writers and photographers the party numbered enough players to bring its total strength to twenty-one.

They are headed by Manager Davis, and among the players were Pitchers Kaler, James, Krapp, De Mott and Switzer, and Catchers Livingston, O'Neil, Adams and Talbot. Catchers Eastern and Fisher and Pitchers Baskette, Swindell, Steen, Cook and Mitchell are to join the outfit at Mobile.

RICHESON IS DYING

Boston, Feb. 20.—Clarence V. T. Richeson, former pastor and confessed slayer of Avis Linnell, will not live to meet death in the electric chair three months hence, according to the statements of his keeper at the Charles street jail.

Physically he is but a shadow of his former self and mentally he is a victim of melancholia. He seldom sleeps, doesn't eat and only occasionally reads.

Richeson is constantly moving about his cell. At the slightest noise he crouches in a corner and tries to hide.

Even Butts, the good natured negro convict who was placed in the adjoining cell, no longer interests Richeson, and he will talk only with Sheriff Quinn.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had white glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh, faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength, and beauty to your hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Frank D. Hall, 10 North Side Square.

A Cup Full of Coffee Satisfaction

THAT is what every cup of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is. It smells like good coffee—it tastes like good coffee. But it has not one of the bad after-effects of coffee.

It won't hurt the most sensitive stomach. It is good for it—tones up the digestion—and at the same time gives the palate all the pleasure that the finest coffee ever sold can give.

Fitch's Grains of Health

The Coffee Substitute With the Coffee Taste

is as different from the ordinary tasteless or vile tasting coffee substitutes, as maple syrup is different from castor oil.

Many cannot tell Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH from coffee. Try it today and know for yourself how good it is. Drink all you want. The more the better. Physicians recommend it.

If your grocer cannot supply you, write us, mentioning his name, and we will send you a generous sample package of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH (enough to serve a large family at breakfast) and a booklet telling you all about Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. Enclose 6 cents in stamps for postage.

CHAPTER XI.

The Shooting-Match at Boggs'.

The judge's faith in the reasonableness of mankind having received a staggering blow, there began a somewhat tentative existence for himself, for Solomon Mahaffy, and for the boy. They kept to little frequented byways, and usually it was the early hours of the morning, or the cool of late afternoons, when they took the road.

A certain hot afternoon brought them into the shaded main street of a straggling village. Near the door of the principal building, a frame tavern, a man was seated, with his feet on the horse-rack. There was no other sign of human occupancy.

"How do you do, sir?" said the judge, halting before this solitary individual whom he conjectured to be the landlord. "What's the name of this bustling metropolis?" continued the judge, cocking his head on one side.

As he spoke, Bruce Carrington appeared in the tavern door; pausing there, he glanced curiously at the shabby wayfarer.

"This is Raleigh, in Shelby county, Tennessee," said the landlord. "Are you the voice from the tomb?" inquired the judge, in a tone of playful sarcasm.

Carrington, amused, sauntered toward him.

"That's one for you, Mr. Pegloe!" he said.

"I am charmed to meet a gentleman whose spirit of appreciation shows his familiarity with a literary allusion," said the judge, bowing.

"We ain't so dead as we look," said Pegloe. "Just you keep on to Boggs' race-track, straight down the road, and you'll find that out—everybody's there to the horse-racing and shooting-match. I reckon you've missed the horse-racing, but you'll be in time for the shooting. Why ain't you there, Mr. Carrington?"

"I'm going now, Mr. Pegloe," answered Carrington, as he followed the judge, who, with Mahaffy and the boy, had moved off.

"Better stop at Boggs'!" Pegloe called after them.

But the judge had already formed his decision. Horse-racing and shooting-matches were suggestive of that progressive spirit, the absence of which he had so much lamented at the jail raising at Pleasantville. Memphis was their objective point, but Boggs' became a side issue of importance. They had gained the edge of the village when Carrington overtook them. He stepped to Hannibal's side.

"Here, let me carry that long rifle, son!" he said. Hannibal looked up into his face, and yielded the piece without a word. Carrington balanced it on his big palm. "I reckon it can shoot—these old guns are hard to beat!" he observed.

"She's the closest shooting rifle I ever sighted," said Hannibal promptly.

Carrington laughed. There was a rusty name-plate on the stock of the old sporting rifle; this caught Carrington's eye.

"What's the name here? Oh, Turberville."

The judge, a step or two in advance, wheeled in his tracks with a startling suddenness.

"What?" he faltered, and his face was ashen.

"Nothing, I was reading the name here; it is yours, sir, I suppose?" said Carrington.

"No, sir—no; my name is Price—Slocum Price!" Turberville—Turberville—

He muttered thickly, staring stupidly at Carrington.

"It's not a common name; you seem to have heard it before?" said the latter.

A spasm of pain passed over the judge's face.

"I've heard it. The name is on the rifle, you say?"

"Here on the stock, yes."

The judge took the gun and examined it in silence.

"Where did you get this rifle, Hannibal?" he at length asked, brokenly.

"I fetched it away from the Barony, sir," Mr. Crenshaw said I might have it."

The judge gave a great start, and a hoarse, inarticulate murmur stole from between his twitching lips.

"What do you know of the Barony, Hannibal?"

"I lived at the Barony once, until Uncle Bob took me to Scratch Hill to be with him," said Hannibal.

"You—your lived at the Barony?" repeated the judge, and a dull wonder struck through his tone. "How long ago—when?" he continued.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his bleared face on his friend.

"We'll stop here, Solomon," he said rather wearily, for the spirit of boast and jest was quite gone out of him. He glanced toward Carrington. "Are you a resident of these parts, sir?" he asked.

"I've been in Raleigh three days altogether," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled, the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift-moving carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Malroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped her tears away.

"When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs' with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced child ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocum Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protege so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquiringly.

"I am glad he has found friends," she said slowly. She wanted to believe that Judge Slocum Price was somehow better than he looked, which should have been easy, since it was incredible that he could have been worse.

"He has indeed found friends," said the judge with mellow unction, and swelling visibly.

Now Betty caught sight of Carrington and bowed. Occupied with Hannibal and the judge, she had been unaware of his presence. Carrington stepped forward.

"Have you met Mr. Norton, and my brother, Mr. Carrington?" she asked.

The two young men shook hands, and Ware improved the opportunity to inspect the new-comer. But as his glance wandered over him, it took in more than Carrington, for it included the fine figure and swarthy face of Captain Murrell, who, with his eyes fixed on Betty, was thrusting his eager way through the crowd.

Murrell had presented himself at Belle Plain the day before. For upward of a year, Ware had enjoyed great peace of mind as a direct result of his absence from west Tennessee, and when he thought of him at all he had invariably put a period to his meditations with, "I hope to hell he catches it wherever he is!"

More than this, Betty had spoken of the captain in no uncertain tones. He was not to repeat that visit.

As Murrell approached, the hot color surged into Betty's face. As for Hannibal, he had gone white to the lips, and his small hand clutched hers desperately.

Murrell, with all his hardihood, realized that a too great confidence had placed him in an awkward position, for Betty turned her back on him and began an animated conversation with Carrington and Charley Norton.

Hicks, the Belle Plain overseer, pushed his way to Murrell's side.

"Here, John Murrell, ain't you going to show us a trick or two?" he inquired.

"Murrell turned quickly with a sense of relief.

"If you can spare me your rifle," he said, but his face wore a bleak look.

"Don't you think you've seen about enough, Bet?" demanded Tom. "You don't care for the shooting, do you?"

"That's the very thing I do care for; I think I'd rather see that than the horse-racing," said Betty perversely.

Betty now seated herself in the carriage, with Hannibal beside her, quietly determined to miss nothing. The judge, feeling that he had come into his own, leaned elegantly against the wheel, and explained the merits of each shot as it was made.

"I hope you gentlemen are not going to let me walk off with the prize!" said Murrell, approaching the group about the carriage. "Mr. Norton, I am told you are clever with the rifle."

"I am not shooting today," responded Norton haughtily.

Murrell stalked back to the line.

"At forty paces I'd risk it myself, ma'am," said the judge. "But at a hundred, offhand like this, I should most certainly fail."

"It would be hard to beat that—" they heard Murrell say.

"At least it would be quite possible to equal it," said Carrington, advancing with Hannibal's rifle in his hands.

It was tossed to his shoulder, and poured out its contents in a bright stream of flame. There was a moment of silence.

"Center shot, ma'am!" cried the judge.

"I'll add twenty dollars to the purse!" Norton addressed himself to Carrington. "And I shall hope, sir, to see it go into your pocket."

"Our sentiments exactly," ma'am, are they not?" said the judge.

"Perhaps you'd like to bet a little of your money?" remarked Murrell.

"I'm ready to do that too, sir," responded Norton quietly.

"Five hundred dollars, then, that this gentleman in whose success you take so great an interest, can neither equal nor better my next shot!" Murrell had produced a roll of bills as he spoke.

Norton colored with embarrassment. Carrington took in the situation.

"Wait a minute," he said, and passed his purse to Norton. "Cover his money, sir," he added briefly.

"Thank you, my horses have run away with most of my cash," explained Norton.

"Your shot!" said Carrington shortly, to the outlaws.

Murrell taking careful aim, fired, clipping the counter.

As soon as the result was known, Carrington raised his rifle; his bullet, truer than his opponent's, drove out the center. Murrell turned on him with an oath.

"You shoot well, but a board stuck against a tree is no test for a man's nerve," he said insolently.

Carrington was charging his piece.

"I only know of one other kind of target," he observed coolly.

"Yes—a living target!" cried Murrell.

UNITED BRETHREN REVIVAL.

The East Main street United Brethren church is passing through one of the most spirited revivals in the history of the church.

It is now in the fourth week of daily and evening meetings, and the attendance is much larger and interest is still growing. While the church has a large membership, yet, like many others, there have been a great many who have been somewhat careless and inattentive to their religious duties and services.

While quite a large number has been added to the working membership of the church, the greatest amount of good is coming from the revival of the church membership, which is manifesting itself in all the different organizations of the church, especially in the Sunday school and in the Young Peoples Society. A class of 25 young ladies in the Sunday school, and also active in the Young Peoples Society, is probably doing the most effective service and expects to double its membership within the next two weeks. Likewise the Men's Adult class, and in fact every class in the Sunday school, is growing rapidly, and at the present rate of increase the problem of providing seating capacity is confronting the trustees of the church.

The church building, being situated as it is, midway on East Main street, has an excellent opportunity to reach out to the masses, and opportunity is being taken advantage of.

The services under the pastorate of Rev G. W. Tyler will be held each afternoon and evening this week, excepting Saturday.

THE DOCTOR HABIT

And How She Overcame It.

When well selected food has helped the honest physician place his patient in sturdy health and vigor, from the "doctor habit," it is a source of satisfaction to all parties. A Chicago woman says:

"We have not had a doctor in the house during all the five years that we have been using Grape-Nuts food. Before we began, however, we had 'the doctor habit,' and scarcely a week went by without a call on our physician."

"When our youngest boy arrived, five years ago, I was very much run down and nervous, suffering from indigestion and almost continuous headaches. I was not able to attend to my ordinary domestic duties and was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself. Under advice I took Grape-Nuts."

"I am now, and have been ever since, able to do all my work. The dyspepsia, headaches, nervousness and rheumatism which used to drive me fairly wild, have entirely disappeared."

"My husband finds that in the night work in which he is engaged, Grape-Nuts food supplies him the most wholesome, strengthening and satisfying lunch he ever took with him." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pgs. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

G. WALTER SCOTT CALLED TO HIS FINAL REWARD

Death Angel Claims One of City's Most Progressive Citizens After Weeks of Suffering.

G. Walter Scott, after an illness extending over six months, died at his home in Hudson avenue at noon Thursday. Mr. Scott had been a sufferer of cancer of the liver and although he had consulted several specialists failed to receive encouragement and death came to relieve his suffering.

With the death of Mr. Scott Newark loses one of her most progressive citizens. He was always identified with the earlier business days with any event which was given to promote the interest of his home town, and was the promoter of a number of civic events such as the big carnivals and out door circuses. In benevolent enterprises he was always found to be one of the leaders, and his personal efforts brought many of them to success.

For over 15 years Mr. Scott was a director in the Board of Trade and was an instigator in the extension of the scope of its work.

Mr. Scott has always made his birthplace his home. He was the son of George Scott and Mary A. Scott and was born on May 2, 1867, being nearly 45 years old at the time of his death.

He spent his boyhood in obtaining an education on at the local schools and graduated from the high school.

He then engaged in the furniture business with his father and later for himself. But for the last several years he has been connected with the Scott Chair company, a corporation which he was a prime factor in organizing and in which he has held the office of president and manager up to the present time. He is also affiliated with Newark Lodge F. and A. M.

Mr. Scott married Miss Catherine Williams of Pittsburg and the widow and one daughter, Miss Alda Scott, are left to mourn his death. He is survived also by his mother, Mrs. Mary Alda Scott, two sisters, Mrs. Charles Wesson and Miss Clara Scott, and two brothers, Mr. Harry P. Scott and Mr. James Kemper Scott.

After being in poor health during the summer months Mr. Scott became seriously ill in September of 1911. In November he went to Rochester, Minn., where he entered the hospital of the Mayo brothers, famous surgeons. There he underwent treatment for some time.

He was brought back to his home and since then has gradually been growing weaker. While his family and friends were prepared for his death, as ever, it was a great shock when it came.

Mr. Scott has been a prominent member of the Second Presbyterian church and was always a devoted worker in its behalf. He possessed traits of character which won for him innumerable friends both in social and business circles.

Add Scott Obit.

The funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at the home in Hudson avenue, at 2 o'clock. Rev. T. A. Cogswell of the Second Presbyterian church will officiate.

"FLYING LADY" ON SEARCH FOR MISSING HUBBY

Coshocton, Feb. 29.—Principals in the "Flying Lady" act again swung into the limelight yesterday when Mrs. Raymond Pharon came to this city from Newark to look up her husband who she claims absented himself from her about two or three weeks ago.

Pharon married the girl in Newark and a short time later the couple appeared in vaudeville in the "Flying Lady" act.

The mechanical part of the vehicle was constructed in a blacksmith shop in this city. The show was given tryout in several surrounding towns and then went on the "road." About three weeks ago the act "went broke" in Steubenville, Mo. and Mrs. Pharon returning to the latter's home in Newark.

Shortly afterwards Pharon came to this city and about a week later his wife was taken ill. She telephoned Pharon here that she was ill and under the doctor's care and for him to come at once. It is learned he promised to do so. That was the last heard

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents sickness of the stomach, and in every way contributes to a strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. ## SOCIETY

A number of Newark music lovers went to Columbus Tuesday evening to hear the Kneisel quartet at Memorial Hall. Mrs. Grace Hamilton Morrey, formerly a resident of Columbus gave several piano solos. Mrs. Morrey has recently returned from studying abroad and she was enthusiastically received. Those in the party were Mrs. W. D. Fulton, Mrs. George Sprague, Mrs. Eliza J. Rankin, Mrs. Ernest T. Johnson, Mrs. Leidligh, Misses Anna Sprague, Annette Besuden, Veronica Stare, Mary Stare, Dora Lisle, Marian Welant and Mr. Charles Ward. A number of people from Granville also attended the concert.

The following guests constituted a merry 7 o'clock dinner party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Turner in North Fourth street on Monday evening. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ruger, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bartholomew, Mr. and Mrs. T. Otto Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Vail, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bockoven, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Stephan, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Nevins, Mr. and Mrs. John Sachs, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sachs, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Oxley, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Putnam, and Mrs. H. D. Cordray.

Miss Ethel Hoskinson entertained last Wednesday evening at her home near Chatham with a kitchen shower for Mrs. Ora McWilliams, nee Miss Blanche Price. A very enjoyable evening was spent at the close of which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McWilliams entertained Sunday at their beautiful home near Vanatta with a dinner party in honor of their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ora McWilliams, who were recently married.

Among one of the enjoyable events of the week was a surprise given on Mr. Frederick B. Toothaker, Monday evening, February 26 at his home in 63 East Channel street, reminding him of his eighteenth birthday anniversary. The surprise was arranged by his mother. About thirty guests were present.

ent. The evening was spent in games and social conversation, which were the amusements of the evening. At a late hour a dainty luncheon was served to the guests.

Among those present were: Misses Marguerite Andrews, Thelma Miller, Ruth Stewart, Georgia Arbaugh, Hazel Miller, Sue Taffel, Stella Timmer, Marah Martin, Anna Toothaker, Mabel Oatman, Messrs. Ellis Oatman, Clyde Oatman and the members of his Sunday school class, Messrs. Amos Burton, Harry Rossel, Chester Bailey, Carl Walker, Everett Jones, George Stewart, Daniel Weiney, Walter Orr, Fred Toothaker and Paul Larason. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Oatman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Toothaker and the teacher of the Sunday school class, Miss Lillian Garber.

A very pretty birthday party was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Van Tassel on Monday evening, at their home in North Thirteenth street, in honor of their son, Harold's fourteenth birthday anniversary. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Snelling. Those present were: Misses Elizabeth Factor, Lela Davis, Elizabeth Jones, Helen Snelling, Blanche Naragon, Anna Barbee, Frances Powell, Elsie Williams, and Messrs. Frank Simms, Richard Howe, Charles Hess, Arthur List, Ellis Snelling, Earl Wyeth, Donald Coulter, Harold Alsopach, John Andrews, Oscar Van Tassel and Mrs. Charles Van Tassel.

The evening was spent in playing games, after which two course refreshments were served. Their appreciation was shown by the many useful presents given, when they all left, wishing Harold many happy returns of the day.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Evans in Tuscarawas street when about twenty of their neighbors and friends masked and made their appearance about 8 p. m. The occasion was Mrs. Evans' birthday. Mrs. Evans was presented with a token of remembrance and love from the crowd. The evening was spent in music and games, after which a dainty lunch was served.

The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames A. E. Lawrence, John Bradin, Howard White, John Brodbeck, Ingram, A. Coburn, David Evans, Mesdames Barrett, Elsie Evans and John Lewis, Misses Florence Hazlett, Ruth Braden and Marie Ingram, Messrs.

Walter Braden, Arthur Owen, David Jones and Bryce Moore.

The Trinity Sewing Guild will meet with Mrs. H. B. Anderson at her home in Eighth street, Friday afternoon.

A most enjoyable time was spent at the home of Miss Nellie Grim in Spencer street on Wednesday evening. The evening was spent with music and games during which a dainty luncheon was served and at a late hour all departed after having had a most enjoyable time.

The Wednesday Afternoon Thimble club will be entertained on Friday afternoon of this week at the home of Miss Anne Davis in Hudson avenue.

The Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. D. M. Smith in North Second street on the club day. The game concluded with the trophy being awarded to Mrs. Wright. The substitute guest was Mrs. Edward King.

The meeting of the Progressive club which was to have been held on Wednesday at the Sherwood with Mrs. H. P. Scott, was indefinitely postponed.

Nancy Boyer, the popular star at the head of the same clever company that appeared here last fall, will inaugurate a two weeks engagement at the Auditorium theatre when she will show a bewildering array of beautiful gowns, many of them to be worn for the first time here. Nancy's taste in the way of gowns runs to those most simple in design but built on good lines. One of her handiwork is of silver brocade with pale blue, and adorned with the new crystal buttons; another of violet with a touch of scarlet. A number of these gowns are imported, being the latest creations from the leading shops of London and Paris. Those worn in "When Knighthood Was in Flower," are worthy of special mention, being made of heavy velvets, brocades and gold embroidery. No star on the repertoire stage today possesses a wardrobe so complete, so elaborate, in every detail as Miss Boyer.

Divorce Decree.

In the probate court, Thursday Judge Hunter granted Pearl A. Williams a decree of divorce from Homer Williams on the ground of extreme cruelty.

WILL CELEBRATE FIRST BIRTHDAY IN FOUR YEARS

According to the birth records in the office of Health Officer Knauss there were but two visits of the stork on Feb. 29, 1908. A girl baby was left at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reigelberger, 2 Pine street, and a boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hart, 460 East Main street. Neither of these families is residing in the city now. At that time the reporting of births by physicians was not compulsory, and the records are incomplete, but it is believed that these are the only two births on that date. These little children, if still living, will celebrate their first birthday anniversary today, though each is four years old.

FALLERS-CLAGGETT.

On Wednesday evening at six o'clock was solemnized the marriage of Miss Olive Claggett of Clay Lick and Mr. Allen L. Fallers of this city. Rev. W. D. Ward, pastor of the Central Church of Christ read the marriage ceremony at his home in Central avenue. The young people were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Fallers will make their home in this city. Mr. Fallers being an employee of the Dean restaurant.

BLOODHOUNDS USED TO TRACE DAUGHTER WHO DISAPPEARED

Charleston, W. Va., February 29.—Bloodhounds were used by W. D. Holyman, a prosperous Elk river farmer, to find the whereabouts of his daughter, Lilly, 18 years old, who left her home last night. She left a note, saying her parents would never see her again. The bloodhounds tracked the girl four miles across the mountains to the home of a neighbor. Her father had reprimanded her for receiving the attentions of a young farmer.

Paper 174 inches wide, for newspaper use, is made at the rate of 650 feet a minute.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Cure

Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50. Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually stops the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, sore lungs, asthma, throat troubles, etc. Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pine is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, and is rich in quajacal and all the other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this recipe have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the Pinex has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A. L. RAWLINGS

AMUSEMENTS

Press Agent Says:

Keyes Sisters. When a comedian finds that an audience laughs at something that he does, either by accident or tuition, he will rivet whatever it was that brought the laugh in his mind until the scene he is playing is over, and when he is alone he will work out the technique, so that he may use it again.

Mr. Chester Keyes, the happy-go-lucky comedian with the Keyes Sisters stock company, now playing at the Auditorium, is one of the youngest comedians ever seen in Newark, and when the announcement was made that the Keyes Sisters were to play here for a week the younger theatre-going people were continually besieging this office to find out if he was with the company. Mr. Keyes is owner and manager of the Keyes Sisters and it is under his personal direction that he has made this company one of the most successful repertory companies on the road. His work as "The Chauffeur" last night clearly defines the lines in which he is most adapted, as he kept the audience in a continual roar during the entire performance.

Tonight the company will present one of the best plays in its repertoire, "The Little Queen," a story of life in San Francisco before the earthquake.

School children attending the matinee on Saturday will receive a nice bag of "Keyes Sisters' Kisses" free.

When Knighthood Was in Flower. No novel in the last twenty years has approached in popularity Chas. Major's story of English life, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," nor was its popularity of the short-lived success because inquiry at the public libraries shows that "Knighthood" is read today as much as ever and the book stores report a continuous demand for the story. The visit of Nancy Boyer will prove more than usually interesting, as "When Knighthood Was in Flower" is one of her feature plays. All four of Miss Boyer's gowns are superb creations, the material for three of them being brought from Europe by Nancy herself last summer. All are made at the models of the original gowns of Mary Tudor, a sister of Henry VIII. Five acts are used to tell the dramatic story, all being especially painted for this production.

The Nancy Boyer engagement opens at the Auditorium next week.

The Orpheum.

A good bill is now being presented at the Arcade theatre. The big feature is the original Manhattan Newsboys' Trio, in comedy singing and dancing act. They have remarkable voices and introduce snappy comedy. Somers & Long have a pleasing singing and talking specialty, which is full of good, gingery comedy. Della & Templeton present an acrobatic sketch, "The Goblin's Doll." They carry special scenery and introduce some excellent electrical effects. Lulu Dixon is charming comedienne and pianist. Her character change specialty. With her character change specialty. With her character change specialty.

A Try Tells Why!

For a time this new food was served exclusively to guests of the famous Post Tavern at Battle Creek, a hotel noted for its excellent table.

Now it is offered to the general public for use in the home. Post Tavern Special is a particularly pleasing blend of the rich field flavors of wheat, rice and corn and should be served hot, as a porridge. Grocers sell it.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

What Made The Water Pipes Burst

Jack Frost Touched the Pipes.

THE water pipes had frozen in the cellar the night before, and one of the last things that daddy had done before coming up to say good night to the children had been to go down and see how well the plumber had fixed them.

"What makes the old pipes freeze anyway?" asked Evelyn, who had not had her morning bath because there was not enough water.

"Dinah says they are bewitched," observed Jack.

"That's what Dinah always says when she doesn't know the why of things," replied Evelyn, turning up her nose. "Tell us the truly reason, daddy."

"Well," said daddy, "I'll try. That little trouble in our pipes began this way:

"Last night Jack Frost sneaked into the cellar somehow some place, although we all thought the cellar was so snug. The furnace fire was low, I fear, and it was a very cold night.

"Jack Frost has a way of snooping around where he is not expected and playing pranks on folks wherever he has a chance.

"When he got in Jack Frost looked around, and, of course, the first thing he spied was just those pipes.

"Ha, ha," cried he; "here's work for me!"

"So Jack Frost hurried over and began blowing his cold breath upon the outside of the pipes. All the little drops of water inside shivered.

"Oh, how cold you are!" each little drop said to her neighbor. Each tried to draw away from her companions. Hastily little white cloaks were put on, cloaks all frosty and white, such as the tiny water drops always wear when Jack Frost comes around.

"With the drops crowding away from their neighbors the water pipes became very, very tight for the water. The drops on the outside pressed outward so hard that the lead began to give way, and presently, with a crack, the pipes burst.

"Then the little drops of water that had put on their caps and cloaks and mufflers and mittens and veils of ice were quite comfortable, thank you. They had plenty of room, and when they needed more they could just give a shove to the break in the pipes and make it bigger.

"While this was very well for the little drops of water, it was hard on poor daddy, who has to pay the plumber. He came in and warmed up the pipe so the little drops could take off their ice veils and be just plain drops of water again. Then he fixed the pipe so the water wouldn't run out of the break. Daddy has to pay that plumber man for his trouble, and, oh, dear, I wish you could see his bill!"

Danderine

Grows hair and we can prove it

Hair Becomes Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Beautiful Immediately After a Danderine Hair Cleanse

Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair—No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Try as you will after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it, if you will just try a little Danderine. Real surprise awaits you.

BABY'S FACE MASS OF SORES

ECZEMA IS SPREAD BY SCRATCHING—INTOLERABLE SUFFERING.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk. Often an eczema-tortured baby scratches and tears at his itching face until it became one mass of sores and the suffering is frightful. Instead of trying the little one's hands, as some do, merely cover the itching skin with a protecting, soothing application of our new skin remedy, Saxon Salve.

This allays the itching at once, gives the child comfort and allows it to get the needed rest and sleep. More than that, it penetrates the pores of the skin, reaching the very roots of the disease with its germ destroying, healing power and soon banishes the eruption, leaving the skin smooth and unscarred.

We sell Saxon Salve on a positive guaranty for all sorts of skin diseases. If it does not give satisfaction you get your money back. Try it. F. D. Hall, druggist, Newark, O.

CIRCUIT COURT WILL NOT HEAR CASES FRIDAY

Will Consider Cases on That Day That Have Been Submitted Previously—Court News.

In the Circuit Court on Thursday the case of Rose Dolan vs. Mary L. Critchlow was tried to the court on the testimony and was submitted. The suit is brought by the plaintiff, Rose Dolan, to enforce the specific performance of a contract for the sale of certain real estate in this city located on Elmwood avenue.

The Circuit Court will not hear cases on Friday, but will on that day, consider the cases submitted during the week.

Hamlin D. Burch vs. the City of Hebron, et al., appeal dismissed. Barney Byrnes vs. C. L. V. Holtz, treasurer, etc., suit to restrain the collection of the Dow tax, originally heard in the Common Pleas court and appealed by Barney Byrnes to the Circuit Court. The plaintiff is now deceased. Trial passed, the question as to whether the appeal can be revived in the name of the administratrix will be determined hereafter.

The Gratiot & Brownsville Tel. Co. vs. Brownsville Farmers' Tel. Co. for trial third Wednesday.

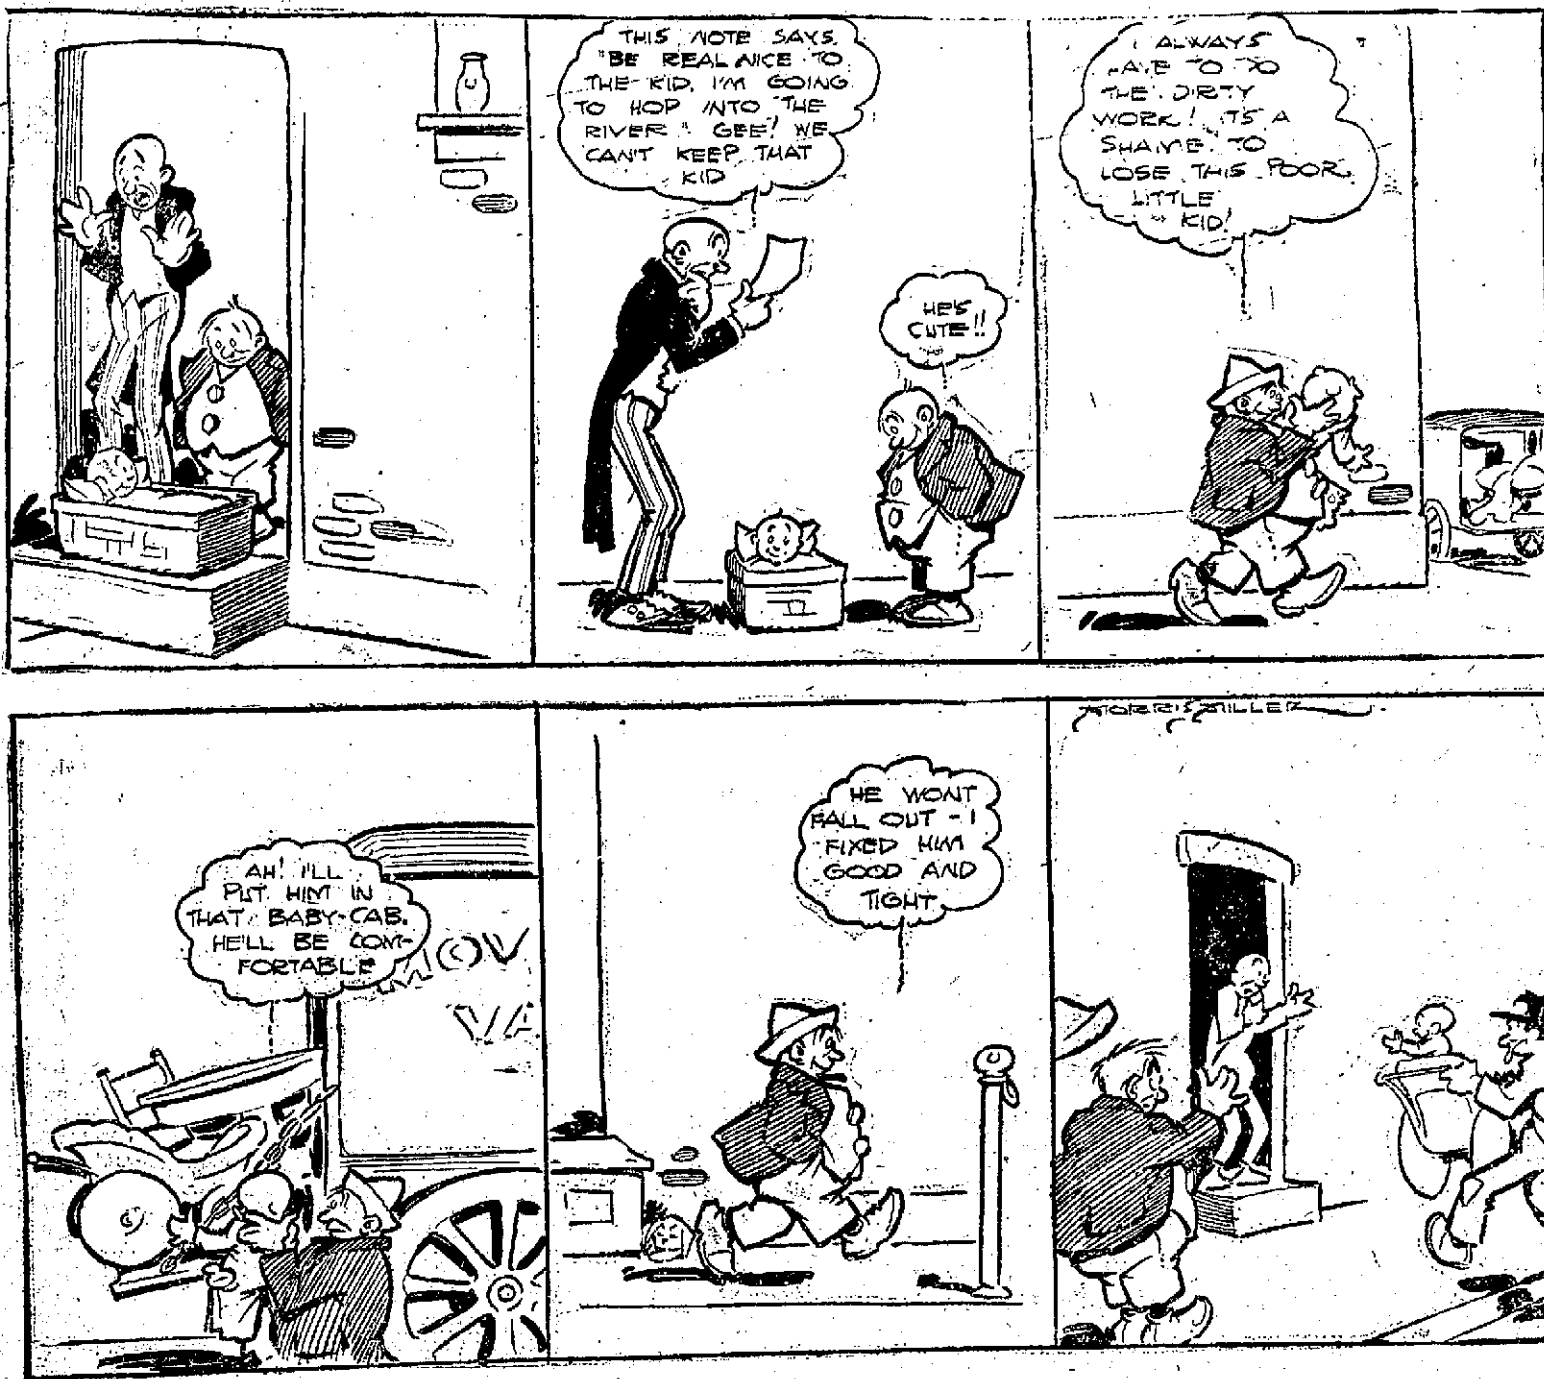

City of Newark vs. Harriet B. Crane and same vs. James W. Burnette, to be assigned later; for hearing on motion.

Motion Filed. Kibler & Kibler as attorneys for the trustees of the Soldiers and Sailors' Memorial building on Thursday, filed a motion in the case against A. G. Wreth and the Vadakin estate to recover for the rent of the Auditorium under Will D. Harris, to strike the amended answer from the files on the ground that the same presents defenses which the Court has already refused to entertain.

Damages Suit. Julia Marovich has commenced suit in the common pleas court against the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railway Company for $2500 damages. Plaintiff says that on May 8, 1911, while the defendant was running its cars on its tracks near Pataakala, several of the cars left the tracks, one of which crashed into the building occupied by plaintiff and her family, hurling her with great force to the floor and badly injuring her. She says that her injuries are permanent and that she has been damaged in the sum of $2500.

CHILD LABOR

Can Be Abolished When Women Are Given Equal Authority With Men in the United States.

Children employed in the canneries were, in 1905, deprived of the intended protection of the child labor law by a stroke of the pen of former Attorney General of the State of New York Julius Mayer, who held that sheds are not parts of canneries and do not, therefore, come under the law. The long, slow, tedious campaign of petition and persuasion has since been going on in the legislature to introduce the word "sheds" into the state labor law. No one can foretell when the campaign will be successful, but it will certainly not end during the present year. Meanwhile children five years old may legally be kept shelling peas or snipping beans from five in the morning until midnight, if they can be made to keep their eyes open. An investigator reports finding a tiny child asleep on the shed floor at midnight, with its hands full of the beans on which it had been working when it fell asleep.

Attorneys general are elected. Mothers and women teachers have no more voice in electing them than in electing judges of the state court of appeals or members of the New York city board of education (who are appointed by the mayor).

The new federal report on Conditions of Work of Women and Children gives a foretaste of the kind of knowledge we shall get, current and up-to-date, when the children's bureau in the department of the interior is established. From it we shall learn, year by year, and place by place, and industry by industry, exactly how our children work and suffer and are robbed of their birthright. Then every legislature can make laws in the light of full knowledge of the facts in states in which the industries compete with those in its own state.

But when shall we get the children's bureau? The campaign of persuasion and petition is already seven years old. The bill to create the bureau was introduced in 1904. In that year John Jenkins of Wisconsin, the chairman of the committee on the judiciary, is said by his colleagues to have pounded the table in the committee room as he asked, "What has the congress of the United States to do with women and children, anyhow?" Fortunately he has been returned to private life. But the mothers and teachers of the nation have no more weight with the congress (except those of the six great states which have enfranchised women), than have the women of New York city with the board of education or the magistrates, or the women of New York state with the attorney general and the court of appeals, or the women of South Carolina with the legislature and Governor Blease.

We make some gains for the children by the method of petition and persuasion. We must continue to use it for the sake of the children, and also, for the education which such work affords to those who engage in it. But child labor can be abolished only when the women of every state are given equal authority with men in the political, social and industrial life of this republic. —Woman's Journal.

DASHED TO DEATH

(Continued from Page 1.) or one fell on the cement walk, crushing it. An Advocate reporter, in looking over the ground, had pointed out to him the place where Winchell struck when he fell. Here a large pool of clotted blood that had flowed from the wounds of the dead man had formed; presenting a most sickening sight.

A. P. Richardson, the injured man, is aged about 32 years. He is married and lives with his wife and two children at their home a short distance north of the city, on the Cedar street cemetery hill. He had been in the employ of Mr. Weakley for about two years.

Word received from the City Hospital at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon was to the effect that Richardson was just recovering from the effects of the anaesthetic, and that indications were that he would recover. His right arm is crushed at the elbow, and the tendons torn loose. His nose is broken, the lower lip badly cut, and the left side of his face skinned and bruised. It is thought that when he fell he struck his companion which had the effect of breaking the fall to some extent.

MANY PASSENGERS ON TRACTION LINE RECEIVE INJURIES. St. Louis, Feb. 29.—Fourteen passengers were injured when an engine and train of three cars on the Hillis Traction company were derailed and overturned in a ditch at Benold, Ill., 50 miles northwest of St. Louis today.

$100 REWARD, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

TO OUT-OF-TOWN SUBSCRIBERS.—When you have finished reading the Advocate, kindly hand it to some friend, manufacturer or business man who might be interested in Newark. No matter where you live or what you are doing, you can often say a word which will be a big boost for your HOME TOWN. Newark is going forward, but every little push from its outside friends will make its progress more rapid.

Will Webb, son of the late J. W. Webb, formerly one of the most prominent men of Newark, has been making his home for many years in Cincinnati, where he is a member of the Hamilton county bar.

Leroy B. Smith, a well known molder, formerly employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, is now foreman in the Atlas Engine Works at Indianapolis, Ind.

Ray Evans, formerly in newspaper work in Newark and Toledo, is now editor of the Sunday edition of the Pittsburg Press and is holding down the job with much credit.

George Coffman, who was formerly connected with the McCune Hardware Company, this city, is now located at Montpelier, Mo., where he is holding down the position of engineer on the Wabash railroad. George is quite popular on the road and is known by everyone from Detroit to Chicago.

Lawrence J. McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McWilliams of Tenth street, is chief clerk to S. A. Jordan, engineer of maintenance of way, B. & O. offices, Camden Station, Baltimore, Md.

Women

From Forty-Five to Fifty Are Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The "change of life" is a most critical period in a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

When her system is in a deranged condition, she may be predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of some organ. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly headed by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

These symptoms are calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance and the cry should be heeded in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared to meet the needs of women's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

Mrs. Estella Gillispie

ONE CASE OUT OF MANY TO PROVE OUR CLAIMS.

St. Anne, Ill.—"I was passing through the change of life and I was a perfect wreck from female troubles. I had a displacement and bearing down pains, weak fainting spells, dizziness, then numb and cold feelings. Sometimes my feet and limbs were swollen. I was irregular and had so much backache and headache, was nervous, irritable and was despondent. Sometimes my appetite was good but more often it was not. My kidneys troubled me at times and I could walk only a short distance.

"I saw your advertisement in a paper and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was helped from the first. At the end of two months the swelling had gone down, I was relieved of pain, and could walk with ease. I continued with the medicine and now I do almost all my housework. I know your medicine has saved me from the grave and I am willing for you to publish anything I write to you, for the good of others."—MRS. ESTELLA GILLISPIE, R.F.D. No. 4, Box 34, St. Anne, Illinois.

NEWS OF VARIOUS OHIO CITIES

Pomeroy: W. F. Price, druggist, arrested on a charge of selling intoxicants, yesterday pleaded guilty. He was fined $1,000 and costs. He also paid the Alkin tax, which brought the total up to between $1,500 and $2,000.

Coshocton: Andrew J. Kendall, age 77, a veteran of the civil war, died here yesterday. He has been blind since being mustered from the service, due to injuries received in action.

Steubenville: The river steamer, H. K. Bedford, sank at Parkersburg, W. Va., yesterday and a cargo valued at $50,000 was lost. The boat was crushed by the floating ice.

Delaware: The appointment of Judge E. Lee Porterfield as postmaster here, has been confirmed by the U. S. senate.

Findlay: The business men of this city are promoting a plan for a Hancock County Chautauqua, but the dates for the meeting have not been announced.

Zanesville: The Moose lodge with a membership of 709 was installed here Tuesday night.

Bridgeport: Frederick Lobenstein's funeral procession was stopped at the cemetery gates by an attorney who discovered that Lobenstein requested in a will that his body be cremated. His request was respected.

Marion: County Detective Matthews has caused the arrest of Mrs. E. H. Dent and Mrs. Miller of Sunbury vicinity on a charge of cruelty to animals, following the officer's visit to the Dent home. He found 40 head of cattle and a number of hogs starving to death. Four cows and several hogs had already died and the carcasses had been partially eaten by the starving hogs.

Steubenville: Albert N. Baird, a city mail carrier, is confined in the county jail charged with stealing money from letters. He confessed to Inspector H.

R. Owen. A decoy letter resulted in Baird's arrest.

Coshocton: Reo A. Adams, divorced two weeks ago, took out a license here yesterday to wed Bessie L. Biers. Both live at Fresno, this county.

Upper Sandusky: M. H. Laughlin of Nevada, who two years ago was defeated by Congressman Carl C. Anderson, has taken out nomination papers and will again make the race for congressman on the Republican ticket in the Thirteenth district.

Sandusky: The plant of the Kishman Fish company at Huron was practically destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is estimated at $25,000. About $5,000 worth of fishing twine that burned cannot be replaced before the spring fishing season opens.

Wellston: Helen, the two year old daughter of Samuel O'Neil, was burned to death by its clothing igniting from an open fireplace. The mother is thought to have received fatal burns while trying to extinguish the flames.

Middletown: A residence valued at $8,000, and owned by Wm. Gardner, was burned yesterday. But a small part of the loss is covered by insurance.

Marysville: Owing to the fact that Marysville has been overrun with tramps, city council has instructed the police to corral all and put them to work at cleaning the streets.

Norwalk: Ancel Holmes, agent of the U. S. Express company here, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself through the head with a 32-caliber revolver. Despondency over ill health is the supposed cause.

Findlay: Miss Hazeltine Warner, 16, of Portage, is slowly bleeding to death. Her nose began bleeding eight days ago and since that time no remedy applied has stopped the flow.

KNABE BROTHERS PIANO COMPANY

Has Numerous Offers to Move Its Plant, Including One From the Newark Board of Trade.

Cincinnati, Feb. 29.—The Knabe Bros. Company, piano manufacturers, has under consideration plans for leaving Cincinnati. This company suffered the loss of its plant in Norwood by fire recently, and since that time has been operating a plant in the Putnam-Hooker building.

Whether or not the Knabe Company will remove to the plant that is now being rebuilt at Norwood is yet to be determined by its directors. The Knabe Company lost heavily by the fire, and this makes some of the offers from other places look tempting. It is understood that the directors have at least a dozen propositions from enterprising cities and towns bidding for the industry, which employs between 350 and 500 men. One offer came from the Board of Trade of Newark, Ohio, having been bought here in person by A. L. Rawlings, of Newark, who is on the board of directors of the piano company.

Several conferences have already been held by the owners of the company, and a definite announcement as to the intention will be made in the near future. An effort is being made to keep the institution in Cincinnati.

Shocking Sounds

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes, or Bright's Disease. Take Electric Bitters at once, and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at F. D. Hall's.

GIVE THEM A PLACE TO PLAY.

Denis A. McCarthy in Catholic Columbian.

Plenty of room for dives and dens (glitter and glare and sin);
Plenty of room for prison pens (gather the criminals in);
Plenty of room for jails and courts (willing enough to pay).
But never a place for the lads to race—no, never a place to play!

Plenty of room for shops and stores (Mammon must have the best);
Plenty of room for the running sores that rot in the city's breast!
Plenty of room for lures that lead the hearts of our youth astray.
But never a cent on playgrounds spent—no, never a place to play!

Plenty of room for schools and halls, plenty of room for art;
Plenty of room for teas and balls, platform, stage and mart,
Proud is the city—she finds a place for many a lad today.
But she's more than blind if she fails to find a place for the boys to play!

Give them a chance for innocent sport, give them a chance for fun;
Better a playground plot than a court and a jail when the harm is done!
Give them a chance—if you stint them now, tomorrow you'll have to pay.
A larger bill for darker ill; so give them a place to play!

Morgan's European Art Treasures are Valued at $50,000,000

New York, Feb. 29.—The first consignment of J. Pierpont Morgan's European art treasures is being unpacked today in the storage rooms of the Metropolitan Museum. It arrived on Saturday on the liner Celtic and was appraised at $700,000. Almost every incoming liner from now on will bring a parcel of the treasures, the total value of which is placed at more than $50,000,000.

BIG BREWERY BURNS.

Valdavia, Chile, Feb. 29.—The brewery belonging to the Advantera Bros., the largest in South America, was today totally destroyed by fire, with a loss of $5,000,000.

A USELESS EXISTENCE ENDED

After a Life of Tireless Destruction and Devastation the Dandruff Germ Finally Succumbs.

BECOMES A VICTIM TO NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

The dandruff germ is a busy little microbe constantly at work and always doing the same thing. Apparently with fiendish intelligence, it burrows down into the hair follicles, destroys the hair life and finally crowds out the hair, causing baldness.

There are two sure ways of stopping the harmful career of this invisible microbe growth. One is to wait until the germ has induced incurable baldness, after which the atrophied hair follicles offers no sustenance to the germ; the other is to USE NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE.

The dandruff germ cannot exist where Newbro's Herpicide is used intelligently. By killing the dandruff germ, it thus checks further accumulations of scurf skin and prevents the hair from coming out.

While many imitations and substitutes are offered for Newbro's Herpicide, there is nothing "just like it" or "just as good."
